

CRYSTAL ALESIO

Community Miracles in Action, Inc.

Crystal Alesio is the President and Founder of Community Miracles in Action, Inc., a teen center that provides youth access to science, technology, engineering, arts and mathematics programming. Before devoting her time to CMA Crystal facilitated various programs that supported youth and families in achieving their maximum potential, in both the not-for-profit and government sector.

A graduate with a degree in Human Services from SUNY's Empire State College, Crystal also holds the New York State School Age Care Credential and serves as a School Age Care Credential Endorser throughout the state. Crystal has been recognized for her professional and educational commitments by the Network for Youth Success and SUNY's Empire State College.

Crystal has made a lifelong commitment to creating opportunities for young adults. She realizes that as a leader and a professional, investing in our youth is an investment in the future of our communities.
