

DANIEL CENTI

First National Bank of Scotia

Daniel Centi is a Vice President and Commercial Loan Officer at First National Bank of Scotia, a nearly 100-year old, independently operated community bank. Before joining First National in early 2017, he had been employed by Trustco Bank as a Senior Commercial Loan Officer for nearly 10 years.

Responsibilities in his current role include Business Development, maintaining and growing the Bank's Commercial Loan portfolio, and underwriting loan requests.

A lifelong Capital Region resident, Daniel graduated from Union College in Schenectady, NY (2002), with a Major in English, and Minor in Economics.

Daniel resides in Guilderland with his wife, Lisa, and two children, Evangeline and Daniel. In his spare time, he's usually involved in family activities, and looks forward to his annual trip to Cape Cod (Town of Dennis or Sandwich), fulfilling his love of all things New England.
