

JAHKEEN HOKE
4th Family Inc.

Jahkeen Hoke is a Co-Founder and the Chief Development Officer of 4th Family Inc., a 501c(3) not-for-profit. 4th Family empowers the community by engaging at-risk youth and adults with authentic and genuine programming. It provides them with an array of unique personal development opportunities. Programming includes teen/community events, mentor programs, personal development programs, educational programming, health and wellness programs, annual sports camps, clinics, and tournaments, as well as educational trips.

At 4th Family, Mr. Hoke spends a majority of his time overseeing the daily business activities and the long-term strategy of the organization in conjunction with teaching entrepreneurship and on-boarding new programs and strategic partners to the organization.

His professional career includes positions working for private and public entities which include GE, Key Corp, AT&T, the City of Albany, and consultant to a variety of start-up companies. Jahkeen is also a Board Member of the City of Albany Industrial Development Agency & Capital Resource Corporation, and Owner of a few start-ups and small businesses. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Management & Finance with a minor in Organizational Leadership from Morehouse College.