

KEVIN CORDELLA

Bank of America

Kevin Cordella is an Assistant Vice President – Commercial Associate in Bank of America Merrill Lynch’s Middle Market Commercial Banking practice. In his current role, Kevin works in collaboration with Relationship Managers as they advise and provide thought leadership to corporate clients in Upstate NY.

Kevin joined the team in February 2018 after moving to the Capital Region from New York City, where he lived for the previous six years. While in New York City, Kevin worked for CIBC World Markets and most recently, J.P. Morgan Securities on their Investment Grade Finance – Debt Capital Markets team. At J.P. Morgan, Kevin focused on North American Utility companies with secondary responsibility for large Oil & Gas and Midstream Energy companies.

Kevin is originally from Framingham, MA, located ~25min outside of Boston. He earned a B.S. in Finance from Boston College with a minor in international studies. Kevin and his wife Nerissa moved to the Capital Region to be closer to family. Kevin spends his free time working on their new house in Ballston Lake, hiking with Nerissa and their 2-year old golden retriever Henry, and trying to better understand all that the Capital Region has to offer.
