

SARAH CLARK
Albany Public Library

Sarah Clark has worked in adult and public service since joining Albany Public Library in 2005. She currently oversees operations at the Washington Ave. and Arbor Hill/West Hill branches.

Sarah, a talented musician and songwriter who performs with several bands, may be best known for her unique and award-winning programming. As a librarian, she created the Silent Film Spectacular, a series during which classic silent films are shown accompanied by local bands performing live, original scores, and Garage Bands in the Garage, a summer concert series featuring local rock, hip hop, and alternative bands that takes place in the garage at the Washington Ave. Branch. Sarah honed her customer service skills as head of the Readers Services Department where she spearheaded efforts to streamline and ease the process to get a library card. During her time as head of the Creative Services Department, she developed the Albany Made Creative Lab, which brings creative arts materials and digital technology tools to patrons, and created the fan-favorite Albany Made podcast.

A native of Old Forge, NY, Sarah earned a bachelor's degree in religious studies from Hartwick College and a master's degree in library science from the University at Albany.
